Narrative on the history, owners and knowledge of this structure

When was it built, by whom with dates birth/death, dates lived there, what is known about the owner, did this owner alter the house and if so how, and details of interest.

The lot was originally platted in January 1917 by C. Lipscomb, Jr. as part of the High School Addition. Lipscomb, a realtor, bought the land that would become the High School Addition. Lipscomb sold three lots (Lots 1, 2, and 6) to George W. Morrell. Two lots faced on Congress and one faced on Fulton.

The Morrells (living at 1118 Egan) contracted with H.F. Davidson in September, 1924 to build a house on Lot 2 by the end of the year. The house was to be a brick veneered, one-and-a-half story house with eight rooms with an English roof. (Book ML, Volume 006, Pages 120-121). The design of the house has many elements of a Tudor house, including a steeply-pitched front-facing gable with wing, decorative half-timbering, a prominent chimney, and round-arched doorways (McAlester 449-452). The agreed upon price was $6500, which is equivalent to about $90,000 in 2014. The Morrells paid H.F. Davidson $2500 up front. In March, 1925, the balance due to Davidson was paid off with a mortgage.

H.F. Davidson built several prominent buildings in Denton between 1900-1930, including the Quakertown House (dedicated as the Denton County African American History Museum in 2008, the Martin-Russell House (811 W. Oak, designated a Texas Historic Landmark in 2007), the Denton Women's Club Building (610 Oakland, designated a Denton Historic Landmark in 2008) as well as other houses in the neighborhood, e.g. 1108 W. Congress (recently designated as a Denton Historic Landmark). (See <http://apps.dentoncounty.com/website/HistoricalMarkers> and Bolz and Bolz 2010)

In January, 1927, the Morrells contracted with T.D. Wynn to build a brick veneer garage, put in a concrete driveway, a back fence and to make changes to the upstairs rooms. It is not clear if the Morrells ever lived in the house. (Book ML, Volume 008, Pages 1-3).

Shortly thereafter in April, 1927, Silas Arthur "Jack" Blewett purchased the house. Blewett, son of G.H. Blewett, was involved with the Denton Milling Company (most likely also known as Blewett Mill and Elevator), with his brother, Emerson K. "Pete" Blewett. The building burned on July 1, 1928 (DRC 7/2/28). Most likely due these financial troubles, the Blewetts sold the house to C.O. Richards, of Barton Realty (see DRC 5/14/29).

Interestingly, R.T. Harpool was hired to run "the financially failing mill, the Blewitt [sic] Mill and Elevator" shortly after moving to Denton from Hebron with his family in August 1928. The mill was located on what later became a part of Harpool Seed (Thurman, 15). As far as we can tell, this would have been on the SE corner of McKinney and Bell.

Richards and his wife, Octa, owned the house for a little over 2 months, selling it to Wayne and Mattie Freeman, on May 31, 1929. We suspect that it was a 'flip.' Wayne Freeman owned Freeman Oil Co. with his brother Fred (see DRC 3/5/32 and Freeman Freeman Oil Co. v. Lyman, 10/8/38).

The Freemans lived in the house until July 1933, when they sold the house to Robert Thomas (R.T.) Harpool, Sr. and Josephine S. (J.S.) Harpool, who had moved to Denton in 1928 and were living at 1100 Panhandle (see Thurman 15 and DRC 7/10/33). R.T. would only live in the house for 14 years; he passed away in Aug. 1947. Josephine would live in the house another 31 years, until her death in Oct. 1978. The Harpools raised three sons in the house (Robert Thomas, Jr. (Tom) (1918-2009), Albert E. (1920-2001), and Walter Sheridan (Pinky) (1922-2007).

In 1938, R.T. and his sons founded Harpool Seed. Over the years, the company expanded significantly. In 1963, the company went into the bulk fertilizer business. In 1974, Harpool Seed bought the Robert Nicholson Seed Company in Dallas, which gave them access to the Dallas and Fort Worth markets. Six years later, the company expanded into Oklahoma by purchasing the Muskogee Seed Company (Thurman 30-34). By the 1980s, Harpool Seed was "among the top ten lawn and garden suppliers in the nation" (Tom Harpool obituary, DMN 6/14/09).

The Harpool sons were very prominent and active members of the community over the next 50+ years (see e.g. "Harpool Section" of DRC 2/15/52). Tom served on the Denton Independent School District Board for 13 years (from 1961-1974) and as president for 4 years (1969-1973). He was very involved with the development of public services in Denton. Harpool Middle School was established in 2008 in Lantana and named after Tom. The Tom Harpool Water Treatment Plant was also dedicated in 2008. In their later years, Tom and Pinky were both recognized by Congressman Michael Burgess in remarks recorded in the Congressional Record (see CR 3/17/05, E467; CR 2/5/07, E252; 5/3/08, E841). In addition to owning Harpool Seed with her sons, Josephine was a very active member of the community and hosted many functions at the house over the years. Many of these events were covered in the Denton Record Chronicle. Her recipes were also included in articles in the paper (see, e.g. DRC 1/30/49; DRC 11/22/64).

After Josephine's death in 1978, the three sons sold the house to Bruce and Kandice Cates, who would live in the house until 1989. It was this time, that the portion of Lot 6 was added to property. In an affidavit of heirship, the three Harpool brothers stated that Lot 6 had been fenced as a horse lot when they moved into the house in 1933. They further stated that their parents, R.T. and J.S., had built the stone wall with wrought iron fence, which enclosed some of Lot 6 with the rest of the backyard of the house. Although no exact date was given, the stone wall and fence had been there for at least 25 years in 1978. Consequently, the Harpools had obtained ownership of that portion of Lot 6 by adverse possession (Book DR, Volume 922, pages 335-342).

The Cates then sold the house to Joe Prickett Jr. and Anja Lutzka Prickett, who would transform the house. They added central heat and air conditioning in 1992 (Book RP, Volume 3151, Pages 213-218). They also significantly expanded the second-floor living space of the house in 1994. The description of the work includes "SHEETROCK, TAPE & BED WALL & CEILING IN DEN, TAP {SIC} & BED KITCHEN AREA, REPLACE SHOWER WITH LARGER SHOWER PAN, TIME FLOOR & WALLS AND NEW GLASS DOOR ENCLOSURE, TILE BATH FLOOR, NEW PEDESTAL SINK, 2 BOOKSHELVE UNITS, TRIM DEN WINDOWNS & DOOR, CARPET, AIR CONDITIONING." (Document # 31069, page 6). Pharr Gary Construction completed the work.

In May 2007, the house was on the 28th Annual Altrusa Home Tour (see DRC 5/18/07). Shortly thereafter, the Pricketts sold the house to Ross Geideman and Kimberly Winson, who lived in the house with their three children until April 2013, when they sold the house to CJ Voci and Jae-Jae Spoon.

RECOGNIZING TOM HARPOOL FOR HIS ENDLESS COMMUNITY SERVICE

HON. MICHAEL C. BURGESS

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commend Tom Harpool, from Denton, Texas, in the heart of the 26th Congressional District of Texas, for his dedicated service to the community.

Tom Harpool makes helping his community a high priority in his life. He has spent so much of his time dedicated to assisting others in throughout the community. From education to banking, Tom Harpool has made a difference in our lives.

In 1954, Mr. Harpool began the first of six terms on the Denton Independent School District Board of Trustees serving as its board president from 1969 until 1973. Mr. Harpool has also been a part of the United Way of Denton County, Boy Scouts of America, 4-H Club and Saint Andrew Presbyterian Church for years. In addition, Mr. Harpool has served on the boards of a local bank and savings & loan before becoming a board member of the Upper Trinity River Authority.

In his own, Mr. Harpool has become a "Master Gardener" and enjoys sharing this hobby with the community through a gardening organization. He has been an active member of the Kiwanis Club for over 50 years and dutifully served on their board. Mr. Harpool has even dabbled in politics by being an active supporter of many candidates in both local and national races.

I am proud to represent Tom Harpool—a man who has given so much back to his community. Mr. Harpool's advice, council and support to the community, whether directly or indirectly, over the years, are certainly something for which to be thankful. I am grateful that can represent such wonderful citizens like Mr. Harpool.

TRIBUTE TO TEMPLE BETH JACOB ON THE OCCASION OF THE SEVENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF ITS FOUNDING

HON. ANNA G. ESHOO

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Ms. ESHOO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Temple Beth Jacob as it celebrates the 75th anniversary of its founding. As the oldest congregation on the San Francisco Peninsula, Temple Beth Jacob stands as a testament to the long tradition of involvement of the Jewish community in the religious and public life in the Bay Area.

Founded in 1930, Temple Beth Jacob was the first Jewish religious institution created between the cities of San Francisco and San Jose. Its membership today is burgeoning with a vibrant congregation of more than 450 families from throughout the Peninsula to worship, to learn, and to strengthen both the Jewish community and the Bay Area community as a whole.

The congregation is led by Rabbi Nathaniel Ezray, who is now in his tenth year as the head of this congregation. Over the years, he's demonstrated a sincere commitment to translating the lessons of faith into actions that will benefit the community. In a 1995 interview, he said, "What's compelling for me is the social justice of Judaism. I want our congregation to respond together to domestic violence, AIDS, black-Jewish relations. My passion is teaching, but the pulpit allows me the opportunity to teach in many different ways and to create meaning and relevance." He lives with his wife, Mimi, and their daughter, Emily, and son, Ethan, in Redwood City.

In the decades before Rabbi Ezray began at the synagogue, Rabbi H. David Teitelbaum led the congregation at Temple Beth Jacob for 38 years. Under his leadership, the congregation grew from only 100 active families to its present size of nearly four times that number. A longtime advocate for civil rights, Rabbi Teitelbaum traveled to Selma, Alabama in the 1960's to march with Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., believing that the history of persecution of the Jewish people creates in them a special obligation to protect the human rights of all. He continues to serve as a beacon for the community and his former congregation in his current role as Executive Director of the Board of Rabbis of Northern California.

Temple Beth Jacob has a long tradition of coordinating with other religious institutions in the Bay Area to provide vital services to the community at large. In addition to providing a school and a pre-school to the community, Temple Beth Jacob's efforts have helped to house the homeless through the Interfaith Homeless Network and feed the hungry through the Urban Ministry's "Breaking Bread" program. They are annual cosponsors of the Martin Luther King observance in Redwood City, and have hosted the event over the years. All told, Temple Beth Jacob is a model of dedicated community action.

Mr. Speaker, I'm proud to honor Temple Beth Jacob as it celebrates its 75th anniversary. After three quarters of a century, Temple Beth Jacob remains a source of pride for the Peninsula, and promises to be a center of our community for decades to come.

UNITED STATES AND RUSSIA ENERGY DIALOG

HON. PETE SESSIONS

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 16, 2005

Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. Speaker, much attention has been paid to the recent conversations President Bush and President Putin have had about democracy. Less attention has been paid to their other discussions regarding market economics, supply and demand, and U.S. energy security.

Although there are varying ideas in American political discourse about the proper role of government, in the post-September 11th world there can be no disagreement that our government's main concern is security of American citizens. National security discussions usually focus on threats to public safety, but I would like to call attention to a less-noticed facet of American security: the importance of our energy security. One of the great strengths of our nation is our access to affordable, reliable energy. Safeguarding that energy security means ensuring that access to energy continues.

In earlier Administrations, energy policies concentrated on lowering the United States' increasing dependence on imported oil. But the oil embargo of 1973 changed America's approach to energy policy. The focus shifted to reducing dependence on other countries to meet our energy needs and to minimizing the economic impact of future oil disruptions. The measures put in place (enhanced energy efficiency, increased industrial fuel switching capabilities, decreased use of oil for power generation, and others) altered America's use of energy by decoupling energy growth from GDP growth and decreasing our average energy intensity, important factors in making the U.S. less vulnerable to oil supply disruptions. Other measures such as developing strategic stocks (building and filling the strategic petroleum reserve, or SPR), developing international institutions to respond collectively to energy disruptions, and diversifying the sources of oil imported into the United States have brought more certainty and stability to the energy market. While energy security policies have not stopped oil disruptions (nor stopped the growth of oil imports which are at 58 percent of to day's consumption) they have enhanced our ability cope with disruptions while limiting economic and market impacts.

Diversifying the sources of energy refers to both fuel and geographic diversity, as well as work to develop other types of energy supplies. Increasingly, America is looking to imports of liquefied natural gas (LNG) to fill the supply gap with diverse, reliable, long-term supplies as United States demand increases, domestic supplies decrease and imports from Canada stabilize. The Bush Administration has identified liquefied natural gas (LNG) imports as one important way to decrease our over-dependence on a small number of countries.

Russia plays an important role in both gas and oil markets, as the location of the world's largest gas reserves and the world's largest producer and exporter. In the international oil market, Russia is challenging Saudi Arabia as the largest crude oil producer. The Bush Administration recognized Russia's increased importance in energy markets, and launched an energy dialogue in May 2002 to enhance United States investment opportunities in Russia and to enhance Russian opportunities for energy trade with the United States.

Results under the Energy Dialogue have been mixed. American company investment opportunities in Russia have been dampened by recent events. Despite President Putin's attempts to mollify the international investment community by indicating that Russia is open to foreign investment, the Russian investment environment has deteriorated through actions undermining the rule of law and contract sanctity such as renationalizing oil assets and limiting bidding on strategic leases in oil, gas, and mining sectors. U.S.-Russian oil trade, however, has been stymied through lack of Russian infrastructure (a deepwater port that

You Have to Love To Love to Cook

By JASIMINE FRY

You have to like to eat awfully well or like to cook for people you love, to be a good cook, says Mrs. R. T. Harpool, 1109 Congress.

A favorite dish that Mrs. Harpool makes for her family is a lemon pudding that is rich and good with almost any kind of meal.

Lemon Pudding

- 3 egg yolks beaten
- 1 tablespoon water
- 1 cup sugar

Add water to egg yolks, then sugar. Cook in double boiler until sugar is dissolved. Add the juice of 3 lemons and the grated rind of 1 lemon. Cook until somewhat thick. Let cool. Then add 1 can of whipped evaporated milk (it must be cold to whip). Fold in whipped whites of 3 eggs. Line refrigerator tray with crushed graham crackers. Add pudding and cover with crushed crackers. Freeze and slice to serve.

A one-dish meal Mrs. Harpool likes to prepare for those she loves is chicken Tetrizini. With it only a salad and dessert are needed for the perfect meal. Mrs. Harpool gives the recipe for enough to serve 15 people.

Chicken Tetrizini

4 or 5 pound chicken cooked until the meat falls from the bones and cut fine.

- 2 cups diced celery
- 2 tablespoons green peppers
- 2 tablespoons onions

Cook in 2 cups water or juice of chicken. Put a box of spaghetti in slowly and then combine chicken, spaghetti, and celery mixture in saucepan and mix with 1 can of mushroom soup. Garnish with pimiento, cheese, and stuffed olives.

Mrs. Harpool started cooking when she married and finds that constant practice is important in good cooking, especially in bread making. Spoon bread, a Harpool favorite, is one of the breads for which Mrs. Harpool stays in practice.

Spoon Bread

- 2 cups meal
- 2 cups boiling water

Wet meal in 1-2 cup sweet milk to keep it from lumping and put in water. Stir until it makes a thick mush.

- 1 1-2 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs
- 1 1-2 cups sour milk

Leftover Lamb Dish

Leftover lamb may be diced and moistened with leftover gravy, then topped with mashed potatoes and heated in a moderate oven. Add a small can of drained chopped mushrooms and a little minced parsley to the lamb for a company touch.

- 1 teaspoon soda
- 2 tablespoons melted shortening.

Add other ingredients except egg whites while still hot. Let mixture cool and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into well oiled baking dish and bake in hot oven about 40 minutes.

COOKING FOR THOSE SHE LOVES—Mrs. R. T. Harpool serves lemon pudding that she has just frozen. Mrs. Harpool also enjoys making spoon bread and chicken Tetrizini for her family and friends.

from cooking is collecting English bone coffee cups. Her mother sends her some from time to time from trips to Canada. Mrs. Miller began her collection when she was near Canada in Detroit, Michigan.

MONARCH BORNE TO RESTING PLACE—The gun carriage drawn by sailors of the Royal Navy bears the body of King George VI from London's Westminster

Hall on the way to final burial ceremonies at Windsor Castle today (AP Wirephoto via radiophoto from London)

ROUND ABOUT TOWN

By R. J. (Bob) EDWARDS

Watch therefore, for ye know not what hour your Lord shall come.—Matthew 24:42

Astrologers claim that the stars make February's children modest and unpretentious, but that claim seems quite out of place when we think that Edison, Lincoln, Washington, Longfellow and many other famous men were born in that month.

Met up with A. O. (Red) Calhoun, principal of Denton High, downtown Thursday, the first time that we've seen the old boy in quite some time.

'Twas hard to believe our eyes! We met W. T. (Bill) Evers way over on the east side of the square. It's quite unusual to meet up with him away from his place of business, south side, unless you go to the Presbyterian Church on Sunday, as he is most always there for the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Simmons, former Denton residents who have been living in Grapevine for the past seven years, may move back here. Ray has been associated with the Allen Butane Co. in Grapevine and when living here he was associated with the county tax collector's office.

Bill Hurst, former picture show operator here but now salesman for a milking machine company, is back from Old Mexico, where he has been on business for the past three weeks. He said, "Business conditions are pretty good in the northern part of Mexico, as far down as Monterrey. The exchange rate is better than eight to one, but prices have been advancing on food and commodities in recent months."

King Buried At Windsor

WINDSOR, Eng. (AP)—Britain said farewell to George VI today in a great outpouring of sorrowful grandeur, and buried him here at Windsor with a hymn of triumphant faith.

Elizabeth II, a queen at 25, led the nation's final homage to her father. For 2 1/2 hours she rode in a horse-drawn carriage behind the coffin to the dirge of 10 bands, while more than a million Britons, packed tightly along the chill streets of London, bowed in reverence.

The King's mother, Mary, stayed in London with the weight of her 84 years and waved her farewell from a window of Marlborough House. But the widowed Queen Mother Elizabeth was here with the Princess Margaret to hear the choir sing the hymn she and the new queen had chosen—a hymn of victory, often sung at Easter: "The strife is o'er, the battle done; Now is the victor's triumph won."

Aside Brother The Archbishop of Canterbury voiced the committal the Church of England assigns to King and commoner alike:

"Earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust, in sure and certain hope of the resurrection to eternal life."

A slab of stone had been laid aside in the floor, and the oak coffin was lowered slowly to the side of the body of the King's brother, the first Duke of Kent, killed in a wartime air crash.

Representatives of nations around the globe joined royalty, nobles and lords in the funeral at St. George's chapel of Windsor Palace. There was the Duke of Windsor, who was a king himself when he laid George VI to rest here 16 years ago.

There were Winston Churchill, the servant of four sovereigns; there were seven sovereigns from other countries, Secretary of State Acheson, representing President Truman; and the Ambassador of the Soviet Union.

There also, was Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who led Britons as well as Americans against the Nazis while George VI stood unflinchingly beside his people in this island Hitler coveted. And by the turn of time, the dignitaries invited to the funeral included the chancellor of a new Germany.

Britain and all the commonwealth fell silent for two minutes at 2 p.m., the hour of the funeral. Then thousands of people gathered for the funeral of a new Germany.

Request For New Powers Faces Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman's request for far-reaching investigative powers for Newbold Morris, his government cleanup prosecutor, today faced prospects of rough going on Capitol Hill.

Key lawmakers were quick to term it "unprecedented" and "a complete departure from established practice."

So far as could be determined, Congress was being asked for the first time to cloak an individual in the executive branch with virtually unlimited subpoena powers, and the tremendous added authority to grant witnesses immunity from prosecution.

The sweeping proposal, certain to run into congressional snags, states in effect:

Where it is "necessary to the public interest," witnesses may not be excused from testifying or producing records on grounds of self-incrimination and objection to possible criminal prosecution. But when compelled to testify, after claiming constitutional privileges against self-incrimination, the witness shall not be prosecuted.

This is a power never exercised by any committee of Congress, as far as could be determined. The only power to enforce testimony used by congressional committees is the power to cite a witness for contempt and this is subject to approval by the whole House or Senate.

Similarly, the power to subpoena witnesses and documents outside as well as inside the government was considered somewhat unusual in the present case.

It was said, after a quick check, that not even in the Teapot Dome hearings of the 1920s did Senate staff investigators have the power to subpoena outside the government.

Mr. Truman told his news conference that he did not know if the executive branch of government had ever sought such powers before, but said he had Attorney General McGrath's full backing.

Heretofore, Congress has granted the power to subpoena witnesses and documents only to its own committees, and to certain executive agencies such as the Federal Trade Commission, the Immigration Service and Federal Power Commission.

Foe To Offer Parley Plan

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Truce negotiators will hold an important full dress session tomorrow for a new Communist proposal for a Korean peace conference.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief U. N. negotiator, returned today from Tokyo where he has conferred for two days with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway and two high ranking officials from Washington.

Staff officers working on prisoner exchange plans reported some slight progress Friday. The session on truce supervision marked time. Col. Dan O. Darrow said it looked as though the Reds were stalling until after Saturday's plenary session.

There has been no hint as to what the Communists will suggest in their new plan for a post-armistice peace conference.

Previously the U.N. agreed to talk about the withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea and a final peace settlement, but rejected a Red proposal to discuss other Asian problems related to Korea.

UNDER NEW QUEEN

Britishers Believe Nation To Prosper

Over a cup of Denton tea, two of Queen Elizabeth's subjects discussed her future as sovereign of the British Empire.

They were Mrs. J. S. Cleary of Hampshire and Mrs. Regi Bauman of London. Mrs. Cleary is visiting in Denton with her daughter, Mrs. Chesley Hornsby, 612 S. Elm St. Mrs. Bauman is the guest of her son, Fred Bauman, 501 Avenue A.

The Britishers met here for the first time this week, and they had much to talk about. Both admitted they cried at the news of the king's death. "He was such a kind man," Mrs. Bauman said.

Agreeing, Mrs. Cleary said she thinks "Elizabeth will be just as popular." Mrs. Cleary said she felt a deep personal hurt in the king's death, because she saw him decorate her husband, who was in His Majesty's Navy before his death three years ago.

Asked if they thought Elizabeth too young to be queen, the British women replied that Victoria was only 18 — "and she was a good queen."

Mrs. Bauman noted that the government of England will be much different when she returns than it was when she left. Shortly after she came to the United States, the Conservatives regained the helm of government, and when she returns she'll also find a new queen.

Mrs. Cleary was quick to state that she was a Conservative supporter, having worked in the election for the Conservatives.

Snow Falls On Drouth-Hurt West Texas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow fell today over wide areas of drouth-stricken West Texas.

Although it was moderately heavy in some Big Bend areas, it was not heavy enough elsewhere to help much. But the U. S. Weather Bureau said more snow and rain may come.

The snow began about midnight in the extreme West Texas area around El Paso. By 2:30 a.m. it had swung eastward to Big Spring and Wink. By dawn it was falling at Lubbock, Midland, Junction and Abilene.

Much of it melted as it fell. Light rain accompanied the light snow at Abilene, Wink and Junction. The weather bureau said rain-clouds were expected to overspread the state by nightfall and that spotted rain was expected over most of Texas.

Valley Gets Water Heavy rain and hail peppered parts of southeast Texas yesterday as blinding clouds of red dust swirled over the upper portion of the state from New Mexico to Louisiana.

The Mexican government said heavy snowfalls in the mountains on the U. S. side of the Rio Grande watershed will supply enough water for irrigation in the Ciudad Juarez No. 1 irrigation district.

Irrigation pumps in the El Jardin water district, South of Brownsville, pumped yesterday for the first time in 31 days. But Laguna cotton growers asked the Mexican government permission to drill 500 new wells to obtain additional irrigation water.

Nearly two inches of rain was reported at Port Arthur. Heavy hail and rain that lasted 15 minutes struck the Moss Hill community 12 miles north of Liberty. Houston reported afternoon showers.

Slight Chances Of Rain Foreseen For Denton Area

Denton County folks were scanning the skies anxiously today, hoping that some of that precipitation descending on West Texas areas would get this far east.

Snow was reported falling at dawn today in Midland, Lubbock and Wink areas, while light drizzles were recorded at other West Texas spots.

The local forecast calls for partly cloudy skies and continued cool temperatures. Light, scattered showers or drizzling rain is possible for the North-Central Texas area tonight, it was indicated.

The cool front which arrived last night appeared to be pushing the mild weather out of the picture. Moist, cool air greeted Dentonites this morning and the chilly temperatures probably will continue for the entire week end, the weather bureau predicted. Low here this morning was 42 degrees, following a high yesterday of 66.

Farmers are hoping for any kind of moisture to help the winter small grain crops, badly in need of rain. Sleet, snow or rain would be pleasant news, agriculture folks have indicated.

Harpool's Featured In Special Section

One of North Texas' largest commercial seed businesses, Harpool's Seed House, will formally show its new and greatly-enlarged facilities to the general public in an open house Saturday from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m.

Located on East McKinney, Harpool's will display its huge plant, which consists of a bigger and recently remodeled retail store, office, warehouses and seed-cleaning and processing equipment.

The Record-Chronicle is proud to present in today's issue a complete 10-page section of stories, pictures and advertisements on the new and greater Harpool's Seed Store. For the complete story of the new Harpool's, turn to Section II of today's paper.

Owner Tom Harpool is to be congratulated on the progress his business has made toward improving agriculture in North Texas. Thousands of farm people from over this section of the state are expected to be on hand Saturday to view the many new features of this widely-known seed house.

URGING 'GO-GO'

Tommie Yates Is Up In Wheelchair

By MARTHA COLE

DALLAS, (AP)—Little Tommie Yates missed Christmas because he had been beaten unconscious the night before, but this Valentine Day he was up in a wheelchair urging, "go-go."

Those are the only distinguishable words amid the jabber of the happy little four-year-old in Baylor Hospital.

But that's progress — when the battered and bruised, semi-conscious child was brought from Vernon Dec. 27, all he did was lie flat on his back, staring at the hospital ceiling and saying nothing.

He's a two-gun cowboy now.

Gifts Flow In He was up in a wheelchair today, dressed in blue jeans, a red and yellow cowboy shirt and red house shoes. And two holsters of toy six-shooters in his lap.

Tommie has everything a four-year-old would want now, except perhaps a real mother and dad beside him. The doctors, nurses, attendants and officials at Baylor hospital and people all over the nation are helping fill that gap.

When the story went out several weeks ago that Tommie had plenty of toys and needed only clothes now, it took only two days before the packages started pouring in.

"It is just plain wonderful," was the way the floor nurse on Tommie's floor, Mrs. Pauline Kyles, put it.

Even Dress Suits She opened drawers and closets in Tommie's room to show eight pairs of blue jeans, three dress suits (one with a white shirt with french cuffs and cuff links), a dozen T-shirts, a dozen cotton shirts, some corduroy shirts and pants, socks and underwear.

All these had been sent by people who wanted to help from all over the nation.

"These will be enough to last him for a year or so or until he outgrows them," the nurse remarked.

Tommie was trying to wheel himself around with his good left hand. His right hand lay limp in his lap. He's still paralyzed on his right side because of a brain injury received in the beating.

Along came the doctor who just a few weeks ago removed a large blood clot from Tommie's brain. The doctor doubled up his fist and made a feinting motion toward the child. Tommie grinned, doubled up his left fist and feinted back, and his right hand made a little involuntary motion.

That's progress, too. Tommie takes physiotherapy every day. The doctors want to see how much progress he can make under that treatment.

All along the route from the fourth floor to the physiotherapy department on the first, nurses and attendants greeted "Hi, Tommie" to the jabbering little gray-eyed boy in the wheelchair. He threw a kiss back at them.

Mother In Prison "We have no trouble getting Tommie dressed now," Mrs. Kyles said. "Everybody wants to dress him up in his new clothes. And he loves it. He especially likes red things. And he has a mind of his own. But you know it's surprising that, considering the attention he

Barber's Wife Freed On Bond

FORT WORTH (AP)—Mrs. Doris Payne Barber, 21, was freed on a reduced bond of $3,500 last night posted by Mrs. Ethel Olinger, Dallas apartment house owner.

She is charged with murder in the death of Detective H. E. Cleveland shot to death in a gun battle with Robert H. Barber, husband of the blonde freed last night.

Criminal District Court Judge Dave McGee earlier reduced Mrs. Barber's bond from $7,500.

McGee on setting the new bond dismissed a habeas corpus hearing that had been scheduled this afternoon. Fort Worth authorities said the reduced bond spared the state from disclosing evidence in the case which might have been demanded by the defense in a habeas corpus hearing.

Dist. Atty. Stewart Hellman said, "We know she's not going to run off."

Barber is in a Fort Worth hospital with bullet wounds received in the gun fight.

Kerr Gets Big Boost In Kansas

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sampling of Senate opinion indicated today Democrats are sharply divided on whether President Truman should run again.

Truman's statement at a news conference yesterday that he faces a "difficult decision on this question" emphasized the uncertainty within his party about this future plans. He is generally credited with being able to get the nomination if he wants it.

Of nine Democratic senators interviewed by this reporter, two said the President ought to run again, one called him "the most logical candidate, two said he shouldn't seek the nomination, two predicted he won't run, one said he preferred Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) and one wouldn't comment.

Among Republicans, Sen. Martin of Pennsylvania said he hopes Truman runs so as to draw the issues sharply in the campaign but Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire said it doesn't make much difference—that the Republicans are going to win anyway.

Sen. Lehman (D-Ill.-NY) and Sen. Murray (D-Mont), who like to be classed in what they call the "liberal wing of the party, said they want the President to run again.

"I am in thorough sympathy with the President's domestic and foreign policies," Lehman said. "He typifies those policies better than any other Democrat. I hope at the same time he takes vigorous steps to wipe out corruption in government and punish the guilty."

Murray said the Democrats can't afford to discard Truman's "experience and background in such troubled times."

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.), who would like to have the nomination if Truman doesn't seek it, said he regards the President as the party's "most logical candidate."

However, Carl Rice, Kansas Democratic national committeeman who conferred with Kerr, said he is going to continue to plug the Oklahoma Democrat as second choice to the President.

Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa), who doesn't go along with the recent action of the Midwestern Democratic Conference in urging the President to run again, said if he were in Truman's place he would retire at the end of his present term.

"Although the President is exemplified from the restrictions of the two-term amendment to the Constitution, if I were in his place I would observe the spirit of that amendment and not run again," Gillette said.

Fulbright Won't Guess On Truman

FORT WORTH (AP)—Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.), who will speak tonight at the Snyder Chamber of Commerce banquet, wouldn't enter the presidential guessing game in Fort Worth last night.

But Fulbright did say: "He's not for Truman. Eisenhower, if nominated would be hard to beat. Government corruption is just a sign of the times."

He also said his wife owns a deep freeze — which he bought — but he mink coat.

DENTON, TEXAS FRIDAY AFTERNOON, FEBRUARY 15, 1952

HOUSE OF SEEDS—This picture shows the exterior of the new and enlarged Harpool's Seed House on East McKinney. The retail store is the left section, and the seed cleaning equipment and warehouses are housed in adjoining buildings.

Remodeling Job Complete At Harpool's

Remodeling operations at the Harpool Seed House, E. McKinney Rd., have resulted in a larger, more spacious building able to contain a larger inventory of seeds and equipment.

And Denton County folk are welcome to come to Harpool's and see the result of the expansion program.

On entering, they will note that the size of the office has been expanded, adding much-needed room to the administrative area. Walls will be missing, visitors will discover, giving way to additional counters where salespeople can wait on customers under non-crowded conditions.

Continuing their inspection, Dentonites will see that store fixtures have been rebuilt, and that workmen have installed tiered display tables on the floor to show merchandise to its best advantage. Waste floor space and fixtures have been eliminated, along with unnecessary materials.

An eye-pleasing effect has been created at the Harpool Seed House with new neutral pastel colors on the walls and ceiling, put there purposely to display merchandise in a more colorful manner and emphasis. The feed department has been completely repainted, also.

Finally, visitors will note the fluorescent lamps throughout the store and office, creating a soft and restful atmosphere.

New And Modern Harpool's To Hold Open House On Saturday

One of North Texas' largest commercial seed businesses, Harpool's Seed House, will formally show its new and greatly-enlarged facilities to the general public in an open house Saturday from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Located on East McKinney, Harpool's will display its huge plant which consists of a bigger and recently remodeled retail store, office, warehouses, and seed-cleaning and processing equipment.

Dentonites and farm people from all over the state are expected to be on hand to view the new Harpool's and the vital seed cleaning machinery that has contributed much to agricultural progress in only slightly more than a decade. Officials and trained employees will be available to show the public around and answer questions pertaining to the seed business and to farm and garden practices in general.

The new Harpool's is the result of progressive methods in improving agriculture, and an insight into the needs of farmers and gardeners in this part of the country. When the business was purchased in 1941, it consisted of only a small store doing mostly retail business. Since that time it has increased its size several times. New lines of seeds and feeds were introduced to meet the expanding needs of progressive farmers. In addition, Harpool's stocked complete lines of virtually every product used in farms and gardens. Bright new departments now feature farm and garden packet and bulk seed, insecticides and medicines for stock and poultry, livestock and poultry equipment, supplies for bees and pets, fertilizers, and many types of farm and garden tools.

One of the outstanding features of Harpool's is its streamlined and complete seed-cleaning plant. The number of machines has been expanded from two in 1941 to 11 at the present time—all of which handle the cleanin gaud processing of seeds, grains, grasses, and legumes. The public is invited to inspect these new devices and watch the process in operation.

An interesting aspect of the seed cleaning equipment is the machine for cleaning certified seed. This is the top quality seed which the State Department of Agriculture supervises to assure farmers of the best varieties of clovers and grains to produce more seed for general planting.

These are only a few of the services offered by Harpool's. Expert counseling in soil problems and seed planting is available to the public by men who have been thoroughly trained in the business. Delivery service handles dispatches of supplies to the farmer and the local customer. A conscientious effort to stock seed needs of the farmers in advance of the season is made to assure a steady supply of seeds under all conditions.

The lake rains have raised the water in Lake Dallas three and one-half feet. The gauge Thursday evening at sundown showed that the water lacked four feet of being up to the spillway and a week ago it lacked seven and one-half feet.

There has been some speculation about how far up the bed of the stream the dam would force dead water. The recent flood has not subsided sufficiently to secure exact figures but before this flood came the Denton-Denton bridge several hundred yards. The water had backed up to the rock falls above the old Denton-Aubrey bridge site and was two or three feet deep at that point.

Carl Garrett and Roy Hulce, traffic officers, wish to ask that all traffic violators who have been ticketed and have not appeared before the City Court to pay their fines make it a point to do so at once, as those who do not appear voluntarily will be served with a warrant.

"Denton is one of the most attractive small cities that I have seen," said F. W. Zillar, of Houston, who is here with his brother, Dr. R. W. Zillar. "This is not my first visit to Denton, but each time I come here I am more and more impressed with the civic attractiveness of the city."

Joe Gambill eliminated Lawrence Scherer in the Country Club Championship golf tournament, which leaves Gambill and Betsy McCray to play for the honor of being club champion.

The flag tournament, approaching and driving contests to be held at the Country Club July 4th (Wednesday) will start at two o'clock and the tournament committee asks that the members be ready to start play at that time.

Roundabout had heard from many sources what wonderful onions were being grown in Denton County and the report now has been verified. This week Mrs. Felicia Greer brought to the Record-Chronicle office a sack of onions that were grown in their garden in Denton.

"We did not get any so-called game fish, but we certainly did get a 'blue-ribbon' variety of catfish," said Ed Lynch, who, with C. J. Wilkinson and Mac Lamar, caught one catfish weighing 32 pounds.

Many Denton people are waiting anxiously for the luscious Denton County watermelon crop to come on. This year the crop will be later than usual; in some years there have been melons of local growth to appear on the market for the Fourth of July celebration, and ordinarily the melons are becoming plentiful about the seventh of July.

"My grain crop will be the best I have grown in ten years," said W. L. Morris. "My wheat, I believe, will yield twenty to twenty-five bushels to the acre; my oats, what I have, are good considering the fact that the oats did not come up to a good stand and they will thresh out something like thirty-five bushels. I have not raised any cotton for several years; I found my satisfaction some time ago that row crops did not pay me as well as grain."

The Jacon Construction Company Monday started work on laying the concrete base for the West Sycamore Street paving. It had been planned to start the work some time ago but the wet weather interfered. City workmen have almost completed the excavation for the paving and concrete work can be carried on without delay unless weather conditions interfere.

HEAVY LOSS IN DENTON MILL

Loss estimated at more than $50,000 was incurred in the fire which early Sunday morning practically destroyed the main plant of the Denton Milling Company on East Oak Street.

The machinery which was not totally destroyed was considerably damaged by water. A part of the grain and flour was damaged only by water. The fire was discovered about 3:15 Sunday morning and an alarm was turned in by workmen at the city power plant and at the depot at about the same time.

Two Trucks Fight Blaze A second alarm was sounded and both trucks of the department fought the blaze, laying four lines of hose. The firemen played the four lines of water on the fire constantly for about three hours before they were able to enter the building on account of the heat and smoke.

Floors Give Way Shortly after the firemen started fighting the fire the roof fell in and the floor of the third story also gave way. Machinery on the second and third floors was ruined by the fire before the floor crashed. It consisted of boilers, reels, sifters, purifiers and other miscellaneous machinery.

Origin of the fire has not been determined, but it is believed to have started on the top floor. Jim McCormick, night watchman of the mill, was on each floor of the building three-quarters of an hour before the fire was discovered and at that time there was no evidence of the flames, workmen at the mill said.

Loss on the building was estimated Monday by E. K. Blewett, manager of the mill, and insurance company representatives to be around $30,000, and the machinery destroyed was estimated in value at between $20,000 and $35,000. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

No plans have been considered as yet for rebuilding the mill, Blewett said, but the mill will continue to buy grain through this season at least, he stated.

Once Mistress of Tabor Millions in Colorado, Aged Woman Fights to Restore Production of "Midas Mine"

DENVER, Colo., July 2.—A tiny miner's hole, perched precariously on the side of a mountain at Leadville, Colo., today shelters an emaciated old woman, who once was the reigning queen of Denver society and the mistress of one of the West's greatest fortunes. The little unpainted shack faces the celebrated Matchless gold mine. Its occupant is Mrs. Elizabeth Tabor, who in years gone by was heralded far and wide as the lovely wife of the late H. A. W. Tabor, the famous "Midas of the Mountains." Today Mrs. Tabor is penniless. Rough miner's breeches and flannel shirts are her only clothing. Once she wore the finest silks and the largest jewels that Tabor could buy. A Slav miner is her one servant. Years ago she ruled a veritable army of domestics in the Tabor mansion, the most elaborate house ever built in Denver. Ten million dollars in gold the Matchless mine poured into the laps of Tabor and his beautiful young wife. Tabor became political over-lord of Colorado, his wife became a social dictator of Denver. They had a daughter. She was whimsically named "Silver Dollar." Tabor was made United States Senator. He saw his wife the most prominent dowager in Denver and Silver Dollar the most sought after belle. Then came the crash. Bad investments, illness and the Tabor fortune was dissipated—all but the famous Matchless mine. When Tabor died, in 1890, the mine was his only possession. Silver Dollar, grown to woman-

VALLEY VIEW (Special) — Mrs. Mary Bierschenk of Valley View has 21 grandchildren, so she's learned to serve a dish that will stretch when necessary when she's expecting company.

HEAVENLY HASH

Cook together:
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons corn starch
2 eggs, beaten
Juice of No. 1 can of crushed pineapple
When cool, add to mixture, mixing thoroughly.

KRUM (Special) — Mrs. August Schluter, who says she has learned to feel at home in the kitchen whether preparing for two or 200, lists recipes for "Cherry Pudding" and "Apple Salad" as two of her favorites.

She has been a member of the Home Demonstration Club for 24 years and enjoys cooking and sewing as hobbies. Other activities which she is fond of include deep sea fishing and hunting. She also likes to travel.

Mrs. Schluter has two married sons and one daughter, Donna. She says the recipe for "Apple Salad" is an original of her mother's and that she has had the recipe for "Cherry Pudding" for 22 years. Banana Fruit Cake Recipe Shared By Valley View Cook VALLEY VIEW (Special) — Mrs. W. M. Terry has found an interesting holiday recipe, Banana Fruit Cake, which she finds time to prepare for special occasions. Pleasantry is her favorite recreation, but she also enjoys baby sitting for her daughter and daughter-in-law. One son, Jerry, is still at home. Mrs. Terry is the Valley View and Era correspondent for the Denton Record-Chronicle, and manages to find several interesting feature stories for publication every month or so.

Her daughter, Kay (Mrs. Collin New) and Bill Terry both live close enough to call on Mr. and Mrs. Terry for baby sitting. There are seven grandchildren in all, six little girls belong to Kay and her husband, and one grandson belongs to Bill and his wife. Two more grandchildren are expected this winter.

Mrs. Harpool Adds This-That For A Meatloaf That's Moist

Mrs. R. T. Harpool of 1109 Congress makes a meatloaf that you serve with a spoon rather than cutting it with a knife. She's moist, she says, "and a friend of mine says it's the only meatloaf she's ever eaten that she likes."

"I put a little bit of everything into it," she admits with a smile, "such as chopped green peppers, onions, some catsup and I soak the breadcrumbs in milk." Mrs. Harpool, a long-time resident of Denton, is interested in gardening and a recent interest is the American Association of Retired Persons. She especially enjoys the trips the association makes. "We have such fun, and see so many interesting things on those trips... but the fun of going somewhere with a group is the best part of all." The association made a trip to Arkansas and surrounding mountain areas recently and enjoyed the colorful fall landscapes.

She's a member of the Denton Garden Club. Her late husband founded the Harpool Seed House which continues to be managed by her three sons, Tom, Albert and Walter. When the boys and their families, Tom and Rebecca and seven children; Albert and Opal and three children, and Walter (Pinky) and Rose and son visit for a special holiday gathering, the Harpool home bounces with activity, but Mrs. Harpool admits that all 18 don't attempt to get together all at once too often. When they do it's a special occasion.

Her recipe is as follows:
MOIST MEATLOAF
1 pound ground beef
1 onion and 1 small green pepper, diced
1 cup diced celery
1 egg
2 slices of bread soaked in milk
1 can tomatoes
salt and pepper to taste
Mix ingredients and bake in a casserole dish.

Otis Addington Dies in County

Special to Record-Chronicle. LEWISVILLE, July 10.—(AP)—Otis Addington, 50, died at his home west of town Friday evening after an illness of several months' duration. He was born in Denton County and had lived here all his life. He is survived by his wife, eight children, his father, Dock Addington, all of Lewisville, and one sister, Mrs. S. F. Leslie of Bonham. The funeral was conducted by Rev. J. R. Atchley, assisted by Rev. E. C. Escoe, at the Old Hall cemetery Saturday afternoon. Pallbearers were Sam Leslie, Andrew Morris, Otto Dick, Gordon Grasty, Dave Street and Ted Brewer.

D. T. Weddington, a resident of this section for a number of years, died at the home of his son, Sam Weddington, at Hale Center Friday. He is survived by his wife, three daughters, Mrs. J. C. Coffey of Waco, Misses Kate and Irene of Rockwell, three sons, Sam, Harold and Joe of Hale Center.

Large crowds are attending the revival conducted by Rev. Alfred Wells of Dallas at the First Methodist Church. Services for the young people are being conducted each day. The morning services are held at 9 o'clock and evening at 8:15.

Mattern May Continue Flight

(By Associated Press) A plan to enable Jimmie Mattern to continue his flight around the world—despite the misfortune that apparently wrecked his plane beyond repair in Siberia—was taking form today. From Anadyr, Siberia, Mattern wireless his Chicago backers asking that a plane be sent so he could fly back to New York. The backers said they would "do everything" in their power to comply. Mattern's message, received last night, asked that a rescue expedition plane now in Alaska, be sent. The Soviet government announced that a powerful seaplane would leave Khabarovsk, Siberia, momentarily for Anadyr, and that it was ready to fly from there to Nome, Alaska, to return Mattern to American territory.

Mattern's own plan was to fly solo from Anadyr to Nome in the American rescue expedition plane, and for the members of the expedition, which is headed by William Alexander, to return to home in the Russian plane.

His latest message, sent to H. B. Jameson, one of his backers in Chicago, said: "Journal New York wires they will send Nome airplane to Anadyr to fly me to Nome. Contact them and arrange for it to come immediately for me to fly solo to Nome. Pilot to return to Nome in Russian airplane coming to my aid."

Jameson relayed the message to the New York Journal, backers of Alexander, who is now at Juneau, Alaska, with two other members of the expedition. They expected to take off today to fly to Anadyr by way of Fairbanks and Nome and comply with Mattern's request.

They were waiting today for the arrival of Prince Rupert, B. C., of Thomas Abbey, a companion, and expected to take off soon for Anadyr by way of Fairbanks and Nome. Alexander and his companions flew several days ago from New York to Terrace, B. C., where they were forced down. Because the plane carries heavy equipment, they expected to use a lighter one for the flight to Siberia.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Holmes and children returned to Breckenridge.

Mrs. Carter Dies Sunday Morning

Mrs. Florence Carter, 74, died at her home, 412 South Locust Street, Sunday at 8 a. m., following an illness of more than two months. Funeral services were to be held in the home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. E. J. White, pastor of the First Methodist Church, of which she had been an almost lifelong member. Burial was to be in the I. O. O. F. cemetery, and pallbearers were to be R. P. Drosihn, Abney Ivey, Earl Durham, Dr. T. C. Dobbins, Eugene Fowler and L. O. Jones of Henderson.

Mrs. Carter is survived by only one near relative, her daughter, Miss Rennie Carter. She was born in Mississippi and came to Denton when quite a young girl, received her education here, and was the widow of W. B. Carter, whom she married Dec. 19, 1877, and who has been dead more than 50 years.

Rockefeller Says He's Too Old To Smile—But Does

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., July 10.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller Sr. says (with a smile) that he's far too old to smile.

He was 94 Saturday and he went to church yesterday. When he came out photographers took aim at him. "Smile, please," they said.

"Don't say that," he said, "just snap your picture. Remember I'm an old man and if I smiled people would think I were pretending. I can't smile."

The crowd around him laughed. Then Mr. Rockefeller smiled.

Round About Town

"I've been a sure-enough working man for the past two weeks," said C. Lipscomb. "I've been building a barn on my farm, near Little Elm and filling it with hay. It's been pretty hot-hard work, but, at that, I think I have enjoyed it as an outing." The barn on the place was burned some few weeks ago.

Don't become alarmed if in going around the Sheriff's office you hear a "pop-pop-pop" sound. It's not a gun duel at all. It's some high-powered beer taken in recently that just doesn't want to stay capped. It explodes in a way that sounds like the popping of a pistol and several fellows have left that part of the Court House rather hurriedly.
